

CALL NEW MEETING ON BIRTH CONTROL

Advocates Will Attempt to Foil Police Interference
on Friday Night.

MRS. SANGER IS FREED

No Evidence of Disorderly Conduct Presented by Prosecutor.

LEGAL STEPS PREPARED

Mgr. Dineen Says Archbishop
Is Delighted at Action of the Police.

Another attempt will be made Friday night in Bryant Hall, Sixth avenue and Forty-second street, to hold the final public session of the first American birth control congress, which was broken up by the police in Town Hall Sunday night.

Because there was no evidence that they had committed a disorderly act the cases of Mrs. Margaret Sanger, writer on birth control, and Miss Mary Winsor, militant suffragist, of Haverford, Pa., who were arrested at Town Hall by order of Capt. Thomas Donohue, were thrown out of court yesterday by Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan.

Archbishop Invited.
Mrs. Sanger sent an invitation last night to Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes to attend Friday night's proposed meeting to present the Catholic Church's side of birth control. She said she hoped the Archbishop would be present or send his secretary, Mr. Joseph P. Dineen, or any other accredited representative.

Mgr. Dineen said yesterday he attended the Town Hall gathering as a representative of Archbishop Hayes and that he believed the police had taken proper action. He said he was shocked to see many children at the meeting.

"Did you have anything to do with the order for the police to interfere with the meeting?" Mgr. Dineen was asked.

"It is my belief that the police acted rightly," he replied. "The police arrangements were very good at the Town Hall meeting. Archbishop Hayes received an invitation to attend and I went in his stead."

"The Archbishop is delighted and pleased at the action of the police, as I am, because of his not coming to be held, as it was against public morals. I need not tell you what the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church is on birth control. The police had been informed in advance of the character of the meeting."

"Did you inform the police?" Mgr. Dineen was asked.

"I understand the proper police officials were informed," Mgr. Dineen said. "It was learned from other sources that Capt. Donohue of the Forty-seventh street station received telephonic orders from Police Headquarters on Sunday to go to the meeting with patrolmen and there find Mrs. Dineen. Chief Inspector Lahey said that a complaint had been received at his office about a week ago and it was forwarded to the inspector in charge of the Third Inspection district. He said he had no objection to information having to come from Police Commissioner Enright."

Robert McC. Marsh, counsel for Mrs. Sanger, said that the meeting in Bryant Hall Friday night would be held, go through, and if there was the slightest sign of interference by the police proper legal steps would be invoked.

Mrs. Sanger's Statement.
Mrs. Sanger issued the following statement last night:

"The interrupted meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in Bryant Hall on Friday night of this week. The same topic, 'Birth Control—Is It Moral?' will be discussed. This meeting will be free to the public and it is expected that both sides of this important question will be discussed. Harold Cox, former member of the British Parliament and editor of the Edinburgh Review, and myself will be the discussors."

"The question I am anxious of settling is by whose authority our meeting was stopped. From the facts presented to me this morning by Capt. Donohue, a recognized officer of law, I was taking his orders directly from someone other than a recognized governmental authority. If these facts are correct, as there seems reason to believe they are, then every citizen of this country has cause to be alarmed."

Mrs. Sanger received hundreds of letters, telephone and telegraph messages yesterday, all of which expressed indignation at the breaking up of the Town Hall meeting and the arrest of the speakers.

When Mrs. Sanger and Miss Winsor appeared in West Side Court Patrolmen Gaine and Davis of the West Forty-seventh street station and the arrest, were questioned by Richard Gibbs, Assistant District Attorney, Mr. Marsh and Joseph Goldstein, attorneys for the prisoners, did not cross-examine.

"We entered the hall about 8:30 and stopped the meeting which was about to start," Gaine testified.

"How can you stop a meeting when it is not started?" asked Magistrate Corrigan.

"Well," continued Gaine, "the police captain had instructed me to go and tell Mrs. Sanger to get off the stage, which I did. She refused to obey me and Capt. Donohue ordered her arrest."

Patrolman Davis said that Miss Winsor was trying to make a speech on birth control and he was ordered by Capt. Donohue to place her under arrest. Capt. Donohue did not appear in court, but efforts were made for two hours previous to the hearing to locate him.

"Have you any further evidence to produce?" Magistrate Corrigan asked Prosecutor Gibbs.

"No, I have not," replied Gibbs. "I recommend the dismissal of the complaint for lack of evidence."

"This action is dismissed," said Magistrate Corrigan.

MAY BARE MOTOR THEFTS.
Eddie Lang of 815 Albany avenue, Brooklyn, automobile thief, who, together with his brother John, is now awaiting sentence for a long talk with District Attorney Lewis in Brooklyn yesterday. It is rumored that Lang is prepared to tell Mr. Lewis of all the ramifications of the automobile stealing "industry" and that the tale will be a startling one.

Basketball Game To-night.
The New York Whitecaps, representing New York in the Eastern professional basketball league will play their first league game to-night at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory, meeting Wilkes-Barre.

BEAVERS SCORN MAN MADE HOME, AND TEAR IT DOWN

Animals in The Bronx Also Adjust the Dam Level in Their Pond to Meet Their Own
Notions of Construction.

There's a sequel to the story of the beavers that suddenly left their private pond in the Bronx Zoo and journeyed to the Bronx River in search of a new home. They were all captured or came back of their own accord, eventually, and took up quarters again under their old roof of sticks and mud on the island in the middle of the pond.

But a few days ago it was decided to let out the water in the beaver pond. In the course of the work that followed drainage tunnels were dug through the mud and ooze of the pond bottom. One of these ran under the island where the beavers built their lodge, and the cutting of it caused one-half of their house to cave in.

The keepers undertook to build the beavers another house on the site of the old one, thinking that they could erect a new dwelling more speedily than the beavers, and that with their knowledge of carpentry and construction the result would be something which would give the animals to deep respect and gratitude.

The beavers were kept out of the pond while the drainage work was going on. And then, when the water had been let in and the new house was finished, they were set free. Did they move into their new quarters with grunts or squeaks or growls, or whatever noise it is a beaver makes, of appreciation? They did not. They set promptly to work and pulled down the whole structure of two by four, carefully plastered mud and leaves, while the keepers watched them. They didn't enter it to pass upon the interior decorating and the plumbers. They gave it a scornful once over from the outside, flapped their tails in unison, and organized a wrecking crew.

Yesterday they were busy putting the finishing touches on a temporary affair which doesn't appear to offer anything like the shelter of the house the keepers built for them. But it's their own, and they're living in it, and they seem to like it. They have also adjusted the dam level to meet their own ideas of what a dam level ought to be. Measurements made after they had finished showed that it was almost exactly that of the water level before the pond was drained.

Farrell, whose fame as a swimmer is known along the New York waterfront from The Bronx clear around the Battery and up the Hudson to Fort Washington Point, was made a prisoner by Detectives Maney and Cordes of the West Forty-seventh street station, the same two men who tried for almost three hours last Friday to catch him as he dodged among the piles of the docks just across Eleventh avenue from the store in which he finally was arrested. On Friday, they said, he was in water, his favorite element, and he dived and "fetched" and wriggled about so successfully that the two detectives were nearly exhausted at the end of an hour.

The charges against Farrell are for burglary. He is alleged to have had a busy time of it since he got free and came back to Manhattan and the west side from the workhouse. According to the police, he and a gang of boys of his age, of which he is the leader, have taken part in five burglaries and sold-ups since November 5. One of the burglaries of which they accuse him cost Capt. Frank Ferdon, who is in charge of a large anchored near West Eleventh street, more than $500. Pedlars and proprietors of small stores on the west side were the victims of the holdups.

Farrell, according to Maney, says he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

ALICE BRADY FILES DIVORCE SUMMONS

Stage and Film Star Charges
Misconduct Against Her
Actor Husband.

Miss Alice Brady, star of the screen and stage and a daughter of William A. Brady, theatrical producer, filed a summons in the Supreme Court yesterday, through her attorneys, in a suit for divorce against James L. Crane, actor and the son of Dr. Frank Crane, preacher and public enemy.

Brady in May, 1919, Dr. Crane officiating. The ceremony was repeated a month later in the Church of the Ascension by Mr. Edwin M. Sweeney at the request of Miss Brady's father and his wife, who is known on the stage as Grace George.

The summons was filed yesterday without a complaint after an order had been obtained from Justice Mulligan directing its filing as of September 3, because a clerk in the office of Nathan Vidaver, attorney for Miss Brady, had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so. Miss Brady's complaint, which will be filed, charges that Crane had been directed to file the summons on the proper date but had forgotten to do so.

CRACKERS LURE BOY FROM RIVER TO CELL

Joseph Farrell, Who Swam
Hell Gate to Escape Workhouse, Is Recaptured.

WANTED FOR BURGLARIES
Eluded Cops in Exciting Chase
a Few Days Ago—Kept Freedom Since Last June.

Joseph Farrell, the seventeen-year-old prisoner who escaped from the Workhouse last June by swimming Hell Gate and who has risked his life a score of times since then evading arrest, was recaptured yesterday as he stood in a grocery store at Eleventh avenue and Fifth street munching animal crackers.

Animal crackers, says the police, lured him from a hiding place under the Hudson River wharves, where he was safe.

Farrell, whose fame as a swimmer is known along the New York waterfront from The Bronx clear around the Battery and up the Hudson to Fort Washington Point, was made a prisoner by Detectives Maney and Cordes of the West Forty-seventh street station, the same two men who tried for almost three hours last Friday to catch him as he dodged among the piles of the docks just across Eleventh avenue from the store in which he finally was arrested. On Friday, they said, he was in water, his favorite element, and he dived and "fetched" and wriggled about so successfully that the two detectives were nearly exhausted at the end of an hour.

The charges against Farrell are for burglary. He is alleged to have had a busy time of it since he got free and came back to Manhattan and the west side from the workhouse. According to the police, he and a gang of boys of his age, of which he is the leader, have taken part in five burglaries and sold-ups since November 5. One of the burglaries of which they accuse him cost Capt. Frank Ferdon, who is in charge of a large anchored near West Eleventh street, more than $500. Pedlars and proprietors of small stores on the west side were the victims of the holdups.

Farrell, according to Maney, says he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A few feet, leaped into the water beneath them.

At 5:30 o'clock, when the space beneath the dock began to grow dark, he took a chance on swimming Hell Gate because he "didn't like the keepers" at Randall's Island. He was missed one afternoon last March, and investigation proved that he had swum the treacherous waters of the Gate in record time.

The search that ended yesterday began the day following his escape. Not until last Friday did the detectives catch a glimpse of him. Maney and Cordes surprised him then as he sat sunning himself on the Fifth street pier. He saw them at the same time, and that, he advanced toward him, cornering him between them, he took a quick glance at the two barges moored nearby and at the proper moment he swam overboard and disappeared. A